

Village Layout Map

Shanchong Village is an ethnic minority administrative village under the jurisdiction of Shanwang Town, Bagongshan District, Huainan City, Anhui Province. It is located in the western hilly area of Bagong Mountain and has a population of 1,736, of which 83.1% are Hui people, making it the only ethnic minority village in Bagongshan District. The village still preserves a mosque built during the Xuanhe period of the Northern Song Dynasty and a millennium-old ginkgo tree.

Current status of satellite images

Shanchong Village Committee

The project involves expanding and constructing the plaza for the Shanchong Village Committee, adding recreational courtyards and horticultural flower areas to facilitate activities and rest for local villagers.

Rural Homestay

Develop tourist guesthouses by leveraging the natural landscape of Shanchong Village. Built on wooden houses, they incorporate pastoral and scenic elements, while introducing a variety of functions such as agricultural experiences and cafes to cater to the needs of all age groups.

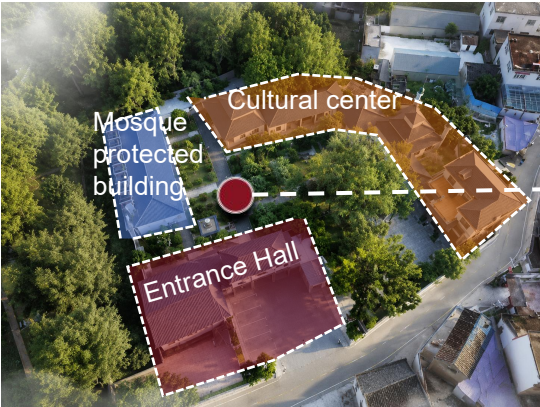

Shanchong Village Mosque

The Shanchong Village Mosque is one of the better-preserved mosques in Shanchong Village. Its design incorporates elements of the Hui ethnic group and combines features characteristic of Islamic architecture to carry out hard-surfaced paving renovations of the plaza outside the main gate. This includes the creation of gathering spaces, the addition of greenery, and the delineation of parking areas, facilitating visits and sightseeing for tourists.

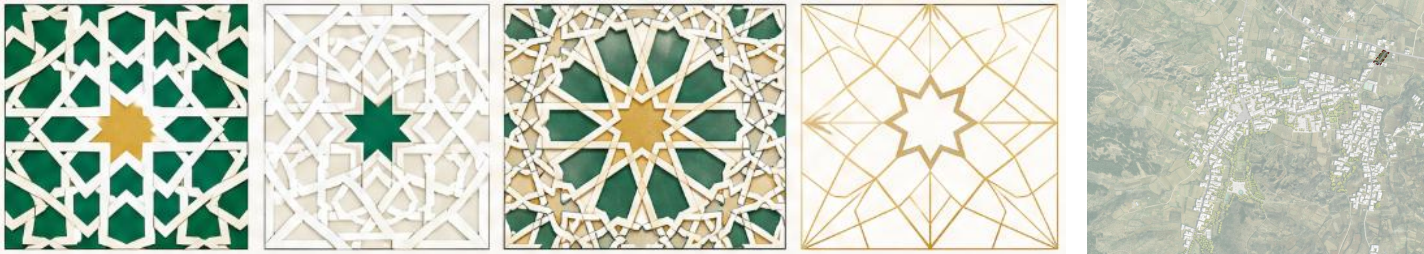

Shanchong Village Mosque

Within Shanchong Village Mosque, there exist buildings of varying sizes. The design project incorporates a division between active and quiet areas. Based on the original mosque structures, cultural exhibition and collection spaces are added to enrich the mosque's functional activities and optimize the central courtyard.

Shanchong Village Main Gate

Shanchong Village Streets

The streets and alleys of Shanchong Village are complex and irregular. The project aims to optimize the landscape of the main streets and the water street within the village, clean up garbage along the rivers and canals, add visitor rest areas and photo spots, and transform the spaces of the original street-side shops to unify the street style and enhance the commercial atmosphere.

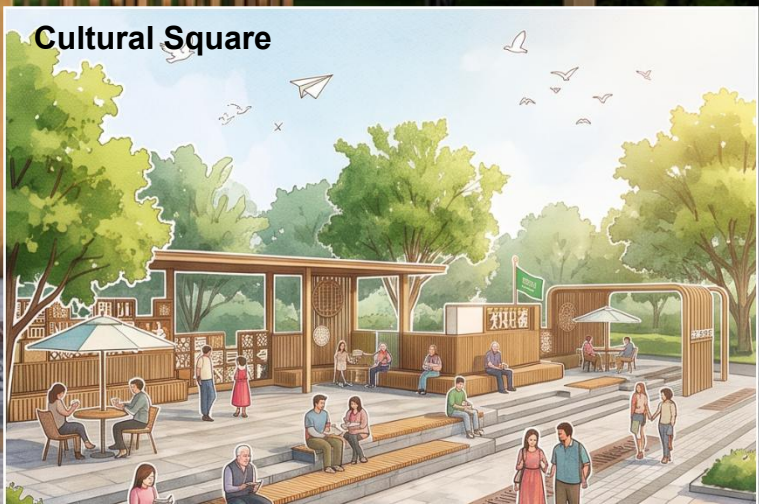

Activation of Street and Alley Spaces in Shanchong Village

Cultural Square

Shanchong Village Cultural Square is located in the central area of Shanchong Village and serves as an important space for residents to exercise and interact. The design involves expanding the original square, adding cultural and news display boards, a children's playground, and other facilities, as well as elevating the central terrain of the square. During festivals, it can host singing and dancing performances to attract visitors and enrich the cultural life within the village.

Countryside Scenery

Shanchong Village boasts a beautiful environment, with designs that integrate natural scenery to create viewing platforms, family-friendly picking areas, and photo-taking spots. It revitalizes idle rapeseed fields and forest resources, adds wooden boardwalks, and meets the needs of diverse groups. ...

Aerial view of Shanchong Village

